GENERAL NEWS.

The Iron Working Strikers Maintain an Unchanged Front.

ANXIETY OVER OREGON'S ELECTION.

New Indian Depredations Broken Out in Arizona—Troops Sent in Pursuit—Accident and Criminal Notes.

[illegible] coast states have had of marking its sense of the gross tergiversation of the republican party in betraying pledges on the Chinese question. Excellent as the marking is to be expected [illegible] does not appear [illegible]. Oregon has been considered to be a democratic state, and the only logical result of the so-called republican betrayal in the matter of the Chinese question must be to give democrats a largely increased majority. Our democratic friends will of course in case their majority is diminished console themselves that treatment of the Chinese immigration bill by congress and the president has met with popular approval.

World's editorial on the Oregon election: The republicans claim to have made considerable gains of late years through immigration, but on the other hand they have suffered serious losses through the president's veto of the anti-Chinese bill, so that the result of to-day's voting may be set down as in doubt, with chances slightly favoring republicans.

Chinese Masons.

Although not generally known, Chinese of this city have instituted a Masonic lodge, and on several occasions members of the Chinese lodge have sought to fraternize with members of other Masonic lodges, but on every occasion have been repulsed. Chinamen were considered members of a clandestine lodge and as such not worthy of notice. The Chinese lodge is less than two years old, but it now has 308 members. Its formation was due largely to the efforts of Deputy Sheriff Tom Lee.

New York's New Penal Code.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The new penal code does not go into effect until December next. It provides for the punishment of all persons who break contract of service, or after hiring and knowing what the probable consequences will be, to endanger persons or valuable property, thus taking cognizance apparently of strikes, as for example, when workmen in an iron furnace agree to quit work just as the molten metal is ready for casting, when compositors on a newspaper withdraw at an hour purposely so late as to prevent issuing the next day's paper, and when railroad hands stop at a fixed time along the line of road leaving cars, passengers and freight wherever they may happen to be at the moment.

War in the Church.

CLEVELAND, June 5.—The breach between Bishop Gilmour and flock is wider than ever. His letter threatening to excommunicate lady members of the land league was read in Catholic churches to-day and commented on by priests who favored the Bishop's position. A large meeting of the land league was held to-night, and the general sentiment favored the ladies, who have the support of all landleaguers in the city. The ladies are determined not to disband. Miss Mary Rowland, president of the ladies' branch land league, has written a bitter letter to Bishop Gilmour, in which she says women of the Parnell branch of the land league will continue in the work they have undertaken. She sets the bishop's threat of excommunication at defiance.

Indian Depredations.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Special from Apache, Arizona: A courier from Capt. Kramer's camp at Forest Dale brings intelligence of Indian depredations. One man was killed and some stock driven off. Captain Kramer and citizens are in pursuit toward the Cibicu country. Pedro and part of his band of White mountain Indians were having a war dance when the courier left. It is thought they did not intend going on the war path, however. Depredations are believed to be by Cibicus and a party of Pedro's young men, whom he could not control. The courier was fired on and pursued for some distance from camp. A troop of the 6th cavalry was dispatched to Kramer's assistance.

Situation of the Strikes.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Trades unions to-day arranged for a monster mass meeting to protest against penal codes. Roofers and tinsmiths are organizing, to demand 15 per cent increase of wages.

CLEVELAND, June 5.—Excitement among iron strikers is intense to-night. Non-union men held a meeting at Newburg this afternoon, about 300 being present. Members of the amalgamated association were present in large numbers, and took a prominent part in the meeting, making speeches in their interest. It is doubtful if more than a small number will resume work in the morning because of intimidation.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 5.—An iron strike meeting at Covington was held last night. Secret rumors disagree as to what the proceedings were. The feeling to-day seems good and rather favorable to an early adjustment of difficulties.

CINCINNATI, June 5.—The action of iron workers at a meeting on Saturday night, having amounted to a virtual declaration for a general strike on the ground that the committee which made agreements last fall with mill owners had exceeded its constitutional powers, there is a shutting down of all mills. President Jarrett has been sent for, and either his presence or a message from him, is expected at a meeting to be held this afternoon. The plasterers' strike has been successful in obtaining the wages asked, $3 50 per day.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Journeymen horse shoers have gone on a possible strike to the number of 250, the bosses having refused to abandon the use of machine made horse shoes. Incidentally the union demanded an increase of 25 cents a day wages, which would be acceded to if not coupled with the other demand. The strikers say they are sure to win and will go to work in a few days.

CLEVELAND, June 5.—The Cleveland rolling mills at Newburg started up this morning. About 500 men are at work. No violence yet, but trouble is brewing.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Little change to note in the labor situation. Work was resumed at ore docks of the Joliet iron and steel company to-day under guard of a detachment of police. Large gangs of strikers hovered around all day but made no violent demonstration. Some fears are expressed they will attempt to repeat the exploit of attacking the train as laborers go home if opportunity offers. Detectives are still without clue to the perpetrators. A large number of arrests have been made, but all have been able to prove an alibi. It is now believed the work of the young roughs was led by a few strikers at Iron Isle. Employers and strikers alike are awaiting for the result at Pittsburg as furnishing a basis for settlement. Brick makers are still out and only one yard is running with non union men. Most of the striking bannermen are reported unanimous to return to work, but hold off for fear of violence from leaders. Most of them are out of money. It is stated to-night employing horseshoers will accede to the demand of strikers to stop using machine made shoes.

An Alabama Town Burned.

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., June 5.—The town of Epes in Sumter county, was almost totally destroyed by fire last night. Particulars as follows: In the afternoon a crowd of drunken negroes became very boisterous in the streets, insulting citizens and threatening violence. Some white men banded together and drove the turbulent crowd out of town. After nightfall the negroes returned and set fire to the place and seven stores were burned. Four of the negroes boarded a train on the Alabama Great Southern railroad and were arrested when the train arrived here this afternoon. They are now in jail and will be taken to Epes to-morrow.

Land Suits to Decide.

Secretary Teller to-day heard argument in the case of the Corte Madera Del Presidio claim of California. The closing argument for the Reed claimants was made by Montgomery Blair and B. T. Brooks of San Francisco. Argument was also heard in the case of the Nebraska mine vs. the Woodville mine of Nevada City, California. This case concerns the right of the department to entertain objections on the ground of prior location after failing to file adverse claims. Decisions in both cases are reserved.

Drowned.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 5.—In Osage county today, Mr. Worburton started in a carriage with his wife and twin children, the entire family, for lake Eustis. On the way he drove into the lake to water his horse. The latter drew the carriage after him into deep water and the whole family were drowned. The four bodies were recovered.

In Memoriam.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Presidents of various Italian organizations in this city have decided to hold a mass meeting to-morrow night to give expression to their regret at the death of Garibaldi. The French union participate. Dispatches of condolence were sent to the family of the liberator.

A Generous Resolution.

BOSTON, June 5.—At memorial services in Brighton last evening under auspices of the G. A. R., Colonel J. D. Washburne of Worcester delivered an address in which he advocated repeal of all legislation disqualifying confederate soldiers from positions in the U. S. army.

A Meeting of Business Men.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 4.—Representatives of business interests of the state met in convention [illegible] to-day to form an association for protection of business men, [illegible] manufacturers, shippers and farmers, as against all questions jeopardizing their business.

Not to be Disturbed.

NEW YORK, June [illegible].—[illegible] The proposition to remove the body of Thomas Jefferson from the old grave yard at Monticello to [illegible] place it in a cemetery at Washington meets with widespread indignation in Virginia. It is safe to assume from all that can be learned that the remains will not be disturbed.

Notable Deaths.

BOSTON, June [illegible].—Prof. [illegible] of Nevada, died at the Crawford House this morning after a short illness. [illegible] California and Nevada for many years, where he was a miner, editor, state senator [illegible]. For the past year he has been [illegible] mining interests.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—James Wimp[illegible], proprietor of Arcola mills, committed suicide to-day. He leaves an estate of $200,000. Mental derangement was the cause.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS

By Plumb: [illegible] whether employment [illegible] in the government printing [illegible] fied by rules [illegible] obligation [illegible] ployment at [illegible] whether the public printer [illegible] obligation expressed [illegible] tion as to personal character [illegible] person employed [illegible] any aspects whatever [illegible] business of the office [illegible] the action of any organization existing [illegible] outside thereof [illegible] adopted without debate.

Beck introduced a resolution reciting that less than a month remains before the beginning of the next fiscal year, that under the law a period of advertisements must be made for a certain period prior to making contracts for clothing, supplies, etc., and in case of the navy at least four weeks before contracts, that the naval sundry civil and legislative appropriation bills have not yet reached the senate, and instructing senate committees on appropriations to report as soon as possible the several appropriation bills necessary for support of government for the next fiscal year which have not been sent to the house [illegible] senate up to this time. After some discussion laid over.

Pendleton offered a resolution instructing the committee on civil service to inquire and report whether any attempt is being made to levy and collect assessments for partisan purposes from parties in government employ in Washington, whether under guise of asking voluntary contributions or otherwise. Laid over upon objection by Plumb.

Van Wyck offered a resolution reciting that printed circulars are being sent employes in the civil service of government containing the following: "Under circumstances in which the country finds itself placed the committee believe you will esteem it both a privilege and pleasure to make its fund a contribution, which it is hoped may not be less than $——. The committee is authorized to state such voluntary contribution from persons employed in service under states will not be objected to in any official quarters. Please make prompt and favorable response to this letter by bank check or draft," etc.

The resolution mentions the prohibition by the statute of 1876 against solicitation of partisan contributions by officials and directs inquiry as to the alleged violation of the statute and authority for allegation of such assessments will not be objected to in any official quarter. Laid over on objection by Plumb.

McMillen introduced a bill providing for agreement with Sioux Indians of Dakota for annexation of part of the great Sioux reservation to the United States and to define the boundaries of separate reservations for various tribes of Sioux.

Sewell introduced a bill allowing $10,000 to the widow of Minister Kilpatrick.

Consideration of the army bill was resumed and question being upon the senate committee's amendment providing for voluntary retirement of army officers after forty years service and their compulsory retirement at 62 years of age.

Bayard asked that the two features be voted upon separately and it was so ordered. First branch amendment prevailed without dissent. It is as follows: "On and after the first day of December 1882, when an officer has served 40 years either as officer or soldier in the regular or volunteer service, or both, he shall if he make application therefor to the president be retired."

Bayard moved to amend the second branch question by providing for compulsory retirement at [illegible] instead of 62 years.

Butler moved to further amend by exempting from this requirement generals who have received thanks of congress.

Logan, in opposing amendments, said the retention of general officers proposed by Butler would permanently prevent promotion of colonels. Upon the point made by Maxey that Napoleon won his distinction by his own efforts without aid of the retired list to remove his superiors in command, Logan said that in the French service officers received their commissions not by promotion as in our own army, but by resignation or appointment, and that the argument therefore was inapplicable. He referred to peculiarities of foreign military establishments and had read at the clerk's desk an interesting historical sketch in support of his argument that the necessity for age limitation for service applied with greater force in the military profession than in others because of the energy, skill and physical endurance required. Also that the military chieftains of history acquired their fame at youthful periods, and that no instance was recorded in which a successful commander had attained 62 years. Logan urged that in disposing of the question upon its merits the senate should ignore social and other outside influences brought to bear in behalf of personal interests.

Maxey presented an array of figures showing the present aggregate annual cost of the retired list, numbering 400 officers, to be $912,[illegible]. He estimated the increased cost from enlargement of the list as proposed at over $[illegible].

Hawley advocated the compulsory proposition. If incapacitated officers were not retired they must be given full pay, and the government must maintain either a retired list or a hospital.

Logan suggested that, under the present practice, an officer relieved from duty and placed on waiting orders on account of his age draws full pay although his duties are devolved upon another.

Hawley went on to argue that our necessities and needs in view of the territorial expansion of the country imperatively required that the efficiency of the army should not be impaired, but preserved at the highest standard. Retirements were therefore indispensable as a means to this end. He eulogized the services of Sherman and Sheridan and expressed his gratification in being able to vote to the former testimonial of respect and good will expressed on his retirement, on full amount and allowances.

Bayard modified his amendment so as to fix the age for compulsory retirement at 64 years, adopted, yeas 25, nays 22.

Butler modified his proposition exempting officers who have received thanks of congress so as to require they shall not be retired until seventy years of age, thus conforming to the regulation in regard to naval officers.

Logan opposed the proposition, and it was rejected, 9 to 45.

A motion by Maxey to strike out the entire retirement clause was voted down, 12 to 39.

Plumb gave notice of an amendment authorizing the president in his discretion to enlist 1000 additional men for the army for frontier service in emergencies not to exceed a period of one year.

Without further action the senate adjourned.

House.

White offered a preamble and resolution and the speaker directed the resolution only be read. It releases the committee on ways and means from further consideration of the resolution offered by White relative to passage of the bill in relation to extension of bonded period and referring that resolution to committee on expenditures in the treasury department with instructions to report in accordance with rule 24. The speaker ruled the resolution not in order under call of states while Kelly declared committee on ways and means would have reported upon the matter referred to had it not been for the objection of the gentleman from Kentucky (White).

White replied the report was that the committee on ways and means was prepared to bring in a white-washing report of its own conduct.

Kelly—I desire to pronounce the proposition of the gentleman as disingenuous, perpetuating slander inflicted upon the committee on ways and means and the commissioner of internal revenue by resolution is here holding up the report of the committee on ways and means.

White—The president of the Western Export Association charges that the gentleman made a bargain with those men.

Kelly—I denounce the gentleman's statement as false and without foundation.

White—Let the preamble be read.

Kelly—It's false—utterly false.

White—The gentleman is too [illegible] to make such a statement.

Kelly—Yes, and if I were younger I would speak with more impunity.

White appealed from decision of the chair, and the appeal was laid on the table, 144 to 7.

Call of states was then continued and additional bills introduced.

White offered a resolution directing the secretary of the treasury to inquire into conduct of commissioner Raum in connection with preparation of the Dunnell bill to extend the bonded period and what improper influences were used if any to bias his judgment and to make him recommend the loss of $20,000,000 of public money. Referred to committee on ways and means.

Speaking of the whisky ring, White stated the committee on ways and means had prepared a report which fully exonerates Commissioner Raum from the insinuation cast upon him by resolutions. While it appears the committee has prepared a detailed report on the Dunnell bill which now allows members on the calendar of this [illegible] determined to whitewash Commissioner Raum, that ex-Secretary Windom has stated that the bill opens wide the door to defrauding the government and that J. H. Miller, president of the Western Export Association, has testified [illegible] the Windom investigation committee that he [illegible] chairman of the committee on ways and means [illegible] there was agreed [illegible] bonded period [illegible] tax on spirits [illegible]

He is as good a man as there is in the army. He has two to assert that he will not allow the promotion of the general at this [illegible] emphatic language. Logan looked black at [illegible] and when Cameron finished he said:

"See here, senator, I want you to understand you can't bulldoze anybody [illegible]. We won't be bulldozed. I have got a right to my opinions and we have a right to express our views. If you want to fight this thing on the floor of the senate, go ahead, but [illegible]."

The President and the Political Situation.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The president has returned to Washington and is not expected to leave again until after congress adjourns. It is probable that a great many appointments will be made during the present month. There are scores of men in town who claim to have received assurances of places long ago and who have been patiently waiting for the president to act. Congress will not probably adjourn before the 4th of July and it is understood there must be made [illegible] adjournment. The recent visit of the president and Secretary Folger to New York [illegible] leading stalwarts of that city and the report that Judge Folger may be a candidate for the [illegible] for governor have revived [illegible] tions of the [illegible] number of changes in [illegible] federal offices in the empire state. The republican state [illegible] York [illegible] the state [illegible] supposed to be in the majority [illegible] and there is talk [illegible] rumors [illegible] Postmaster Howell will resign with a [illegible] and that Secretary Frelinghuysen will be appointed his successor. This report is [illegible] to attract more than a passing notice, and the feeling among Pennsylvania congressmen is that the president cannot accomplish what party leaders [illegible]. The possibility of cabinet changes cannot be considered with the revival of the report that ex-Senator Conkling will be one [illegible] of the administration in the event that Mr. Frelinghuysen is abroad.

Mysterious Doings at Washington.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Regarding the Doyle case a Washington special says: Mysterious things are constantly happening. Only a little over a week ago the custodian of the bureau, Bell, was dismissed for carelessness in leaving two important dies outside the safe when closing up time came. Now since Bell is out he refuses to talk about his case, which adds to the mystery of his dismissal, apparently being very well satisfied with his disgrace. Upon the heels of this comes the mysterious poisoning of Brooks, chief of the secret service. One day during last week he was violently ill with a number of members of his family, and examination shows arsenic in beef tongue eaten by the family. Why should Brooks be poisoned at a time when rumors are plenty in the treasury that counterfeiters hold enough stock in reserve to dictate their own terms, while rumors of other counterfeit issues from government transfer work are heard constantly in official circles. In all this medley of mystery and intrigue the case of Doyle at Chicago is made to look very small. Whether he gets out or not is not now regarded of much consequence. If the government can really get at the bottom of the affair. One thing is certain: the treasury people will not be able to go on much further without attracting the attention of congress. If it were not so near the close of the session, when so many important measures are pressing to the front, an investigation of the [illegible] would have been [illegible] It is believed this week treasury people will order Brockway and Smith released. If this is [illegible] the interest will be concentrated upon the treasury investigation of all facts submitted in the [illegible] of Doyle. Stories are afloat of twenty-three million government bonds having been issued by means of stolen dies.

The Last Appeal Denied.

Chief Justice Carter and Judges James and Hagner, constituting court in banc, to-day rendered a decision upon the last motion filed by [illegible] Guiteau's behalf. The chief justice delivered the decision as follows: In the case of Guiteau the judges who listened to the argument in that case have concluded they have exhausted their powers upon it; that they have heard it patiently, fully and fairly, and that reargument would bring no other conclusion than that already arrived at, and they decline to reopen the case for argument.

Jail officials say it is a fact that becomes more apparent every day that Guiteau is failing mentally and physically. His condition yesterday was startling in the extreme, and forebodings of total insanity before the 30th. Certain signs of physical and mental disintegration [illegible] failure [illegible] appetite is [illegible] this. Guiteau's appetite is failing and he has become [illegible] communicative [illegible] the entire time between rising and retiring lying stretched on his cot, pondering perhaps on the few intervening days between life and death. He will surely fall before hanging day is the opinion of those who see and know him at the jail. Officials will have to carry him to the scaffold and prop him up until the fatal drop falls. Abject fear is taking possession of him and the assassin will present a pitiable appearance when the penalty is reached. Some are inclined to think he will go stark mad a few days prior to the event and present [illegible] Our thing is certain, and that is Guiteau will surely sink into a [illegible] or be [illegible] before many days elapse.

The Bonded Spirits Bill.

WASHINGTON, June [illegible].—Shufeldt of Chicago, president of the National Distillers' Association [illegible] raised $4,000 from Kentucky distillers to [illegible] bill passed, relating the tax to 50 cents a gallon. They intended to hire a lawyer. The bill was amended by striking out the [illegible] the further [illegible] from [illegible] because [illegible] their interest [illegible] raised $1 [illegible] $1,000 in [illegible] $10,000 [illegible]

Henry Carson has written a letter to the general [illegible] veto [illegible]

The [illegible] of labor in this country by the census bureau show that American workmen receive nearly 100 per cent more than those of Great Britain.

It was supposed in the star route case in which [illegible] He evidently means to have the case pushed.

Much interest is felt here in the Oregon election occurring to-day. Congressman George, republican, sitting member from Oregon, says he is doubtful of the result of the election as the other side has a great advantage. It is so far away he is unable to get home to take part in the fight and he expresses his [illegible] that state has ever been returned.

It is stated here that either Secretary Folger or [illegible] Congressman Starin will be a candidate for governor of New York. Both are stalwarts.

Circulation of [illegible] standard dollars for the week ending June 3 was [illegible] against [illegible] for the corresponding period last year.

Cameron of Wisconsin introduced a bill in the senate [illegible] granting right of way to the Arizona Southern railroad on a strip of land 100 feet wide through the Papago Indian reservation in Arizona. Delegate Oury introduced a similar bill in the house.

The scheme to pass the river and harbor appropriation bill under suspension of rules in the house to-day was abandoned. Mr. Page, chairman of the committee who was instructed to put the bill upon its passage, decided that it had best be brought up in regular order and fully debated before being passed. The house was not in a liberal mood and with a combination of great magnitude had been effected by providing for the local interests of over two thirds of the members a large minority was opposed to voting away seventeen millions of dollars with only half an hour's debate and under a suspension of rules. To-morrow the general deficiency bill will be considered, and when out of the way the river and harbor bill will be taken up. Three days' time will in all probability be required to pass it.

Senator Plumb has reported favorably to the senate from the committee on public lands the bill for relief of homestead settlers on public lands. It provides that when a homestead entry has been made on unsurveyed lands and settlers shall have improved the same in good faith for agricultural purposes, built houses, or planted trees or otherwise improved it in a substantial manner and shall be compelled by sickness or necessity to labor for the support of a family to be absent for part of the time during the period of residence, he shall have the right to prove his residence, occupation and improvement of land [illegible] of such absence and where a settler has settled upon and improved land and dies before the period of residence [illegible] the law expires [illegible] legal [illegible] representative of the family [illegible] Patent to issue on full proof of the land a patent shall be issued to the widow of the representative of the same.

Bills of Brents and George.

Delegate Brents of Washington territory has introduced a bill appropriating $1,000 for [illegible] for the use of the entrance of Gray's harbor, W. T.; also a bill appropriating $50,000 for erection of a lighthouse and fog signal on Destruction island [illegible] also a bill making [illegible] in the waters of Puget Sound; the bill [illegible] for an appropriation of $[illegible] arriving at [illegible] Also a bill presented by Brents to last congress [illegible] also a bill for relief of Messrs. Crary and Carle, appropriating $[illegible] for [illegible] destroyed by the Indians at [illegible] in 1878.

Representative George of Oregon introduced a bill to-day appropriating [illegible] to build a revenue cutter to cruise in Alaska waters.

An Unfounded Statement.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Tribune's Washington letter: It is not true, what was in the report that Mr. [illegible] to be appointed assistant secretary of the interior in place of the one that ex-Senator Lake [illegible] to be made commissioner of Indian affairs.

Another Bond Plate Stolen Reported.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Herald's Washington special: There is a rumor current to-night indifferently sustained that the plate upon which the extended [illegible] certificates were printed has been stolen from the bureau of engraving and printing, and that $2,000,000 of spurious bonds have been issued therefrom.

MARINE DISASTERS.

SOUTH HAVEN, Mich., June 4.—This evening the schooner Industry from St. Joseph capsized just north of this harbor and all on board were drowned. The wreck was near shore and witnessed by hundreds but owing to a terrible sea it was impossible to render any assistance to the drowning crew. When first seen the sailors were clinging to the rigging, but were washed away one by one. Captain King, master, was the last to go down and was at one time so near the shore as to be recognized by acquaintances on shore. Part of the rigging came ashore together with a board bearing the name, Industry, leaving no doubt as to the identity of the craft. Gallant efforts were made by sail and skiff to rescue the perishing crew, but the wreck was carried so rapidly by the terrible gale that nothing could reach her. The severest storm of the season was raging and it was impossible to do anything except wait till morning, when search for the bodies began.

CHICAGO, June 5.—A South Haven special says: A board bearing the name of Belle Richardson [illegible] ashore there this evening and it is feared she has gone down with her crew. The crew of the Industry who lost yesterday consisted of Capt. John King, his son Frank and a sailor named [illegible], all drowned.

Schooner Wrecked.

CHICAGO, June [illegible].—The schooner Yankee Blade of Muskegon, with a cargo of 4000 cedar ties from Fale [illegible] Isle, undertook to make [illegible] Saturday afternoon, but was unable to do so, and after dragging an anchor went [illegible] and was a total wreck [illegible] of a five miles south of South Chicago. The crew of seven were lashed to the rigging [illegible] waves [illegible] and rescued by the [illegible] yesterday. The vessel is a total wreck. She was valued at $10,000.

Arrival of Princess Louise.

QUEBEC, June [illegible].—Princess Louise arrived to-day in excellent health. The mayor read a congratulatory address in French and in the same language her royal highness responded expressing her pleasure and in returning to Canada. Louise was [illegible] attired in a very narrow striped gray water [illegible] trimmed with black satin and [illegible] The only ornaments were small earrings of [illegible] pearls. The princess enjoyed the voyage very much, suffering very little from seasickness. She was [illegible] cheered as the vessel approached the wharf.

Chinese Labor in Canada.

[illegible] special to the Globe from [illegible] British Columbia says Fraser river steamers are running to and from with loads of Chinese coolies for work on the Canadian Pacific railroad. Something like 8,000 will be employed on the work before the [illegible] of the season. These newly arrived are reported not free from leprosy. At a political meeting at the amphitheatre Sir John A. Macdonald said: "I am opposed to Chinese labor in America [illegible] I think it is for the permanent interests of Canada to bring in such barbarians to work out [illegible] what labor [illegible] rats [illegible] and it is [illegible] the great [illegible] years and if I cannot obtain white labor [illegible] other."

Davitt answers to Mr. Forster in a Scorching Pamphlet.

THE EGYPTIAN SITUATION UNCHANGED

Garibaldi's Memory Receives Many Touching Tributes from all Europe as Lovers of the Liberator.

[illegible] Davitt [illegible] the land league [illegible] and [illegible] of the land league, and [illegible] the Irish [illegible] [illegible] secretary [illegible] purpose [illegible] [illegible] to [illegible] the commission [illegible] plunder and murder [illegible] Davitt's reply is that its violence has been garbled. Passages have been purposely removed from the context and mitigating parts were suppressed. The object of the pamphlet he says [illegible] and embroil him [illegible] opportunity has been afforded by the [illegible] purpose which he denounced wicked and hateful, at a time when the efforts of good men on both sides are being directed to allay passion.

Davitt cuttingly remarks that he regrets the author had not been brought up under better influence than that of presenting a lie which is half truth. He maintains that anything may be proved in the same fashion against reformers who have given England untaxed bread and extension of the franchise. Had Mr. Forster, he asks, done mischief enough without Forster's coming forward now. It was the Forsters of culture he maintained who stung Ireland into madness and helped to make the people of the two countries hate each other so that the accursed system might be easier to rule and ruin. To the charge made in the pamphlet that in 1870 Davitt was committed as a felon having been engaged in a plot to murder Davitt replies that what he did in 1870 is no proof of what he did in 1881 and inquires why the pamphlet which pretends to tell the truth about the land league does not tell the whole truth about his share therein. "I drew up the charter of the land league," says Davitt, "and I drew up the instructions to organizers from that time until the orders of Forster reconsigned me to a convict prison. I made a hundred speeches. Why does not Forster make quotations from any of them if he would find me guilty of inciting to outrage and murder? Of course the answer is, he cannot. I defy him to name an instance wherein I did otherwise than decry force and protest against outrage. If he cannot see this he has no right to go back ten years."

Davitt goes fully into the evidence against him in 1870 and says it would not have hanged a gnat and further time and that Forster's suppression of facts in connection therewith is more cruel and cowardly than the act of any miserable moonlighter in Ireland. Other statements are quoted against the land league which he asserts are made by men who had no more right to represent the league than Forster has to represent the society of Friends. In extracts quoted from the Irish World he accused Forster of obtaining a false witness for the purpose of making political capital out of national hate. He concludes with a high compliment to Herbert Gladstone and congratulates the premier on having got rid of Forster.

The Egyptian Situation.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June [illegible].—Besides Dervisch Pasha commissioner and Lebib Bey assistant commissioner, Ali and Essad Effendi second commissioner, and Vilay Bey attache to the commission have sailed for Cairo. All foreign ambassadors were summoned to the porte last evening and informed of the dispatch of the commission with the object of having effect a reconciliation between the Khedive and Arabi Pasha and restore order. Lord Dufferin, British minister, telegraphed Earl Granville that in view of the sultan's action in sending the commission to Egypt postponement of the conference was desirable.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June [illegible].—The porte has sent a circular to its representatives about expressing an opinion that a conference is no longer called for since the commission sent to Egypt will suffice to restore order. It is said the Khedive and the sultan have [illegible] and it has succeeded in establishing an understanding between the military party and [illegible] in the event of landing Turkish troops they and Egyptian troops will fraternize.

CAIRO, June 5.—In consequence of the protest of the British government against military preparations in Egypt the sultan telegraphed the Khedive and requested Arabi Pasha to discontinue them, and ordered cessation of work on the fortifications at Alexandria.

Arabi Bey means Business.

LONDON, June 5.—A Cairo correspondent says he has had an interview with Arabi Pasha who stated he cared little for England's promises and threats and will repel the troops aggression with his whole strength. Heavy guns are going into the earthworks erected around the harbor of Alexandria.

Excitement in India.

CALCUTTA, June 5.—Great excitement prevails regarding the order issued by the secretary of state for India for immediate repeal of the petroleum act of 1881 and the substitution therefor of a new act allowing importation of an oil subject to the orders of the viceroy of India. The Indian secretary's order is caused by the arrival of several cargoes of inferior oil which has been seized by the lieutenant governor of Bengal. The chamber of commerce has presented an address to the government strongly deprecating the measure, and the Indian government will take a week to consider the subject.

A Bloody Massacre.

CALCUTTA, June 5.—It is stated the Khonds, an aboriginal tribe in the central provinces, have taken Bhawani Patna, chief town of the tribe called Cuttahs, whom the Khonds accuse of agrarian encroachments. They robbed the treasury and murdered over 600 people. Portions of the hair and flesh of victims were distributed among the Hill Khonds to induce them to join the revolt.

The Pope on Garibaldi.

ROME, June 5.—The pope on hearing of the death of Garibaldi remained silent awhile, and then raising his eyes upward said: "There has gone another figure of the revolution. Oh God, be merciful to him." The Vatican organ Voce della Verita says: Garibaldi was one of the most determined, but also the frankest of our adversaries. Not from him came the heaviest blows and bitterest troubles. He was no hypocrite. May the prayers of his pious mother have smoothed the last moments of her son's agitated life.

Italy's Sorrow.

ROME, June 5.—All liberal journals are in mourning and publish eulogies of Garibaldi. The French chamber of deputies in adjourning as a mark of mourning produced an excellent impression. Ricciotti Garibaldi and Maj. Canzio have arrived at Caprera and preparations for the cremation of the remains are all [illegible]. Doctors are expected to arrive this evening.

ROME, June 5.—Many cities are moving for the erection of a monument to Garibaldi. The municipality of Genoa subscribes 100,000 francs for a monument and Verona 10,000. The municipality of Rome votes 200,000 francs for a monument on Janiculum hill.

Ten Vienna journals publish bitter articles on Garibaldi.

LONDON, June 5.—The Cobden club passed a resolution of regret at the death of Garibaldi.

PESTH, June 5.—The lower house diet adopted a resolution expressing sympathy for the loss to Italy and mankind by the death of Garibaldi.

Victor Hugo's Tribute.

PARIS, June 5.—Victor Hugo telegraphed to Caprera: "It is more than death. It is a catastrophe not only to Italy and France but mankind mourns." Victor Hugo also telegraphed his acceptance of the honorary presidency of the funeral, but stated he will be unable to attend on account of great age.

Severely Injured.

HANFORD, June [illegible].—Bishop Francis Mora of Los Angeles, who was to dedicate the new Catholic church at Hanford to-day, was very severely injured yesterday near Lemoore. When crossing a small ditch the seat broke and threw him and Father Coris out violently to the ground. The bishop is suffering severely from concussion of the brain, but everything possible is being done for his relief.

Young Man Drowned.

NEW TACOMA, June 4.—This morning in a small pond near McNeil's mill two miles from this city, Andrew Smith, night watchman at the Northern Pacific railroad shops, was drowned. He and his companion were precipitated by a log turning in the water barely over their heads and less than ten feet from shore. He was about 32 years of age, and leaves a mother in Victoria.

Seattle Notes.

SEATTLE, June [illegible].—An electric display of the most magnificent character was visible here last night. The flashes began about dusk and continued all night and at times were almost incessant, there being twenty or more a minute. Thunder, some of it very loud, accompanied the lightning, as also a sharp fall of rain.

The regents of the Territorial University have determined to tender the presidency of that institution to Prof. Thomas Condon, of the State University of Oregon.

The body of E. Durnal, a German recently from the Sandwich islands, was found last evening at the foot of a precipice 80 feet high, down which he had evidently fallen two or three days before. He arrived here last Thursday and was an entire stranger to everybody.

Attempted Escape.

TOMBSTONE, June 5.—Hiram B. Potter who was found guilty of incest and sentenced to imprisonment for life at the last session of the court, attempted to escape from jail on Sunday evening. He gashed a fellow prisoner badly with a razor and jumped out the door as another prisoner was put in. He ran about a block when he was again captured by the jailer and guards. He was taken to Yuma penitentiary this morning.

It has done more for the rheumatic sufferers throughout the land than any remedy ever known. We refer to the Great German Remedy St. Jacobs Oil. I. L. Tobias, the well known and popular cigar manufacturer, of 441 Third avenue, New York, informs the writer that both himself and wife have been great sufferers from rheumatism, and that St. Jacobs Oil is the only thing that did either of them any good.

The fact is, said Mr. Tobias, "it has cured us entirely and in a very short time, and we used only a couple of bottles—the whole cost two dollars. Much less expensive than a long doctor's bill, with the apothecary's charge for putting up his prescription added." You can tell the world what I know of St. Jacobs Oil, and what my wife knows about it. I want everybody with rheumatism to know as much of it as we did, and to feel as good as we did when we found ourselves as well as ever."

There is perhaps no tonic offered to the people that possesses as much real intrinsic value as the Hop Bitters. Just at this season of the year, when the stomach needs an appetizer, or the blood needs purifying, the cheapest and best remedy is Hop Bitters. TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1882.

THE GENERAL RESULT.

In this city there are too few precincts, and a large vote is consequently massed in each. Hence it is impossible to get full returns in less than twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls. The telegraph reaches only a few principal points in the state, so we have little from the small precincts which are counted out by an early hour. Last night telegraphic communication with the eastern part of the state was wholly suspended. For these several reasons the returns we are able to present this morning are meagre. Enough however is known to warrant the belief that the republicans have elected their entire state ticket, and probably a majority of the legislature. George for congress will pretty certainly have as large a majority as that of two years ago, and possibly larger. His associates on the state ticket will have considerably less, though we think it probable that the lowest majority—say Moody's—may be 300 to 700. In this county the majorities will vary greatly. The highest may reach 1000, while the lowest will have a close run, and possibly two or three of the candidates on the democratic ticket may be elected. In Marion, according to latest dispatches, the republicans have made a clean sweep, giving their state ticket from 600 to 700 majority and electing the county ticket entire. But it is impossible to do more as yet than to guess in a general way at results. It may, however, be said with certainty that George is elected. On governor the contest is a close one, with the chances favoring Moody. We shall not have full returns from the precincts of this city till late this evening.

REFORMS NEEDED.

The election of yesterday emphasized the common criticism that our whole system of state civil service—if we may use the phrase—is wrong. The contest was not chiefly upon the men who make laws, or who execute them, or upon our representation in congress. Voters, as they went to the polls, did not consider with so much interest who shall be the statesman of this commonwealth? as who shall get the few money making offices?—who shall be sheriff and who shall be clerk? Compared to the interest felt in the result of the contest for sheriff, that for the governorship was secondary and trifling. This interest was not because of any great or useful public service which the sheriff may perform, or of any special favor in which either candidate was held; but because of the enormous profits of the office. It pays too much, and the county clerkship pays too much. Twelve thousand dollars per year, the acknowledged annual profits of either office, is about four times over what either service is worth. This great profit—so out of proportion to the character of or amount of the service which it rewards—occasions scrambles for the fat places and scrambles beget evils which need not to be set forth. We may see in Portland the evils of the spoils system. There is one way to reform this bad business. The fees which are now paid to sheriffs and clerks, should be paid to the county or state, and the sheriffs and clerks should be paid salaries in proportion to the responsibility of their respective positions, and the character of service which they perform. And the surplus fees which now go into private pockets, which maintain corps of trained strikers and create hosts of expectant eaters, and which pay for all the hurrah and most of the deviltry of our election, should contribute toward the support of our courts. The public should pay fairly and fully for the service which it gets, and nothing more. Games of grab are neither interesting nor moral spectacles.

But while interest centered in the great offices of sheriff and clerk, they did not wholly absorb it. The minor spoils places got a share. Much interest was felt as to who should have the opportunity, in the name of justice, to rob the people in the various precincts. The candidates for justices of the peace were on hand at the polls and besieged all comers for votes with the disgusting importunity of paupers and the insolence of highwaymen. And even in this shameless business, these brass-faced beggars exhibited but a part of the character which aids them in the disreputable practice of their courts. This may not apply to all; it does to most of them. Our justice court system is wholly bad. It encourages idle and malicious prosecutions, it pays for unjust decisions. The courts may be used as machines for the vent of private malice, with the certainty of profit on the side of vicious judgments. They load the dockets of the superior courts with trifling causes because "reference" pays and acquittal does not. The justices should be paid just what the service which they render is worth, and no more. The temptation to wrong judgments and the opportunity for extraordinary profits should be removed. And with removal of these evils would come purification of elections, relief to the higher courts and relief to the taxpayers.

THE CURRENCY OF THE FUTURE.

Hon. Wm. B. Allison, chairman of the senate finance committee, contributes an article on "the currency of the future" in the last number of the North American Review which is attracting wide attention. The discussion of this subject, he says, is based upon the anticipation of a total extinguishment of the public debt, in which event there will be no United States bonds to use as security for the circulating notes of the national banks. Before this time comes it will be necessary to arrange for some other form of security for the national bank issues, or to take away from the banks the privilege of issuing notes, and in that case to furnish a substitute for such issue.

This question has seemly the urgency which is attached to it by those disposed to discuss it: The bonded debt of the government is something more than $1,500,000,000, and it is not to be expect that the rate of reduction during the past few years will be maintained in the future. Either taxation will be reduced or a large part of the surplus revenues will be squandered. The increase of expenditures for pensions to $100,000,000 per annum, and the inauguration of Mississippi river schemes that will devour all the way from $150,000,000 to $250,000,000, are alone sufficient to denote a material abatement in the extinguishment of the public debt. If, on the other hand, the demagogues secure a repeal of the whisky tax, or a tremendous reduction of the taxes on both whisky and tobacco, then from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 of annual revenue will be sacrificed. If the demagogues be defeated in this undertaking then there will be some chance for securing a reduction of the customs taxes on the necessaries of life to the same extent. In either case the government revenues from taxation are likely to fall off within the near future, and it will not be possible to keep on paying off the debt at a rate far in excess of the requirements of the sinking fund law. If the debt should be paid at the rate of $50,000,000 a year it would require thirty years to cancel it, and it is much more than likely that the rate of payment will be reduced below that figure within a few years. Indeed, it is not at all unlikely that when the debt shall be cut down to a certain figure it may be funded at the lowest rate of interest into permanent bonds as a basis for banking and trust institutions.

There are other considerations which indicate that there will be no serious embarrassment for want of currency in case the banks shall be deprived of the privilege of issuing notes. The demand for actual currency may be expected to decrease in the future as it has in the past with the growth of new facilities for exchange through banking institutions and clearing houses. If the legal-tender act be allowed to remain undisturbed there may always be a fund of $400,000,000 of debt-paying currency in the country. This currency may be increased by the issue of government certificates of deposit for coin and treasury notes based upon the government surplus. Even if the banks should cease to issue currency within a few years the maintenance of the double standard in this country, the product of the American mines, and the power of the government to supply a paper currency based upon specie would be ample to protect the country from any money famine.

Senator Allison suggests that the government issue gold certificates, dollar for dollar, for all gold brought to it and deposited with it for the redemption of such certificates upon demand. He introduced a bill early in the present session of congress, we believe, looking to this practice, but it seems to have been lost sight of under the pressure of less important schemes. It is incomprehensible why gold certificates are not issued by the government upon the deposit of the metal in quality and quantity corresponding to the requirements of law for the weight of gold coin. Certainly no better nor safer form of paper currency could be desired than that certifying the deposit of a certain amount of gold—whether $10, $20, $50, $100 or $1000—in the hands of the government for safe-keeping. There has been some mysterious opposition to the scheme, but no reason for it has ever been assigned. What is the objection to it? Such certificates would be as convenient as national bank notes and as safe as the coin itself; indeed, the certificates in circulation would be better than gold for they would be less liable to loss, theft, wear and tear. They would command absolute popular confidence until the government vaults should be robbed or the government itself should begin to misappropriate the deposits.

Senator Allison is of the opinion that ultimately individual liability must take the place of national bonds as security for the circulating notes. To make such security satisfactory he would have every individual shareholder in a national bank liable for the entire obligations of the bank—the Scotch system—and institute certain judicial scrutiny over subscriptions to bank stock to ascertain the solvency and resources of the shareholder after the manner of approving sureties. He would then limit the issue of circulating notes to one-half the capital of each bank, except that an additional issue might be made upon the actual deposit of coin. The fatal defect in this or any other substitute for the present system is that it dispenses with the government guarantee of redemption which is now attached to every national bank note. No system of individual liability can take the place of such security. The American people, having become accustomed during the past twenty years to a currency which is absolutely protected against individual failures, will not be satisfied with notes which rely for redemption upon the solvency and honesty of individual guarantors, no matter what the conditions of the guaranty may be. When the United States bonds shall no longer be available as security for national bank circulation, then the banks must either cease to issue circulating notes, or such notes must be based upon the actual deposit of coin. From this time on the people of this country will always demand a par currency, absolutely secured by the government faith and an adequate redemption fund in specie.

LOCAL MATTERS URGENT.

Two matters of great local importance should be considered by the council at its meeting to-morrow night. The question of a dock limit may just as easily be settled now as at any time, and it should not be allowed to become an old song and finally be put aside. It is a matter of direct interest to every man who owns property in Portland or who does business here. Its neglect will work serious injustice to people who have already set up valuable improvements on the river front. It needs attention and at once. A more serious and urgent matter than this even, is that of the proposed new dredge. The original appropriation by the council was approved by everybody. Not a single voice in the whole city was raised against the proposition to deepen the channel of the Willamette at the public expense. It was felt that the future of Portland depended largely upon the improvement, and no man murmured at the cost. Further illustrating the spirit of our people toward this important matter, the board of trade has twice appropriated money toward river improvement, sent an agent to Washington to secure government aid and merchants are now contributing individually and liberally toward this great and urgent public need. The council, with ample funds at its disposal, hangs back. There is no time to lose. Get a dredge now which will do the work, and look to the future for a better one. There is economy in haste, and never was delay more dangerous. If the whole of the appropriation—thirty thousand dollars—were spent in keeping the channels open only this season, it would be well spent, as the direct gain would more than compensate the outlay; while the indirect advantage in lower charter rates for this and coming seasons is beyond estimate. Let the council act.

Garibaldi was born at Nice, July 4, 1806. At his death he wanted but one month of being 76 years of age. His first service was rendered to Brazil in her war for independence. He married a South American woman of extraordinary energy, and remained in Brazil and Buenos Ayres till 1848. He then returned to Europe and began his career in Italy. His name is inseparably connected with the events which terminated the temporal power of the pope and prepared the way for Italian unification. Banished from the states of Sardinia in 1850 he came to New York, and for a considerable time earned a living by making candles on Staten island. In 1859 he was recalled and given the command of a corps against the Austrians. Throughout the war he rendered the most important services to the Italian cause. Of late years he has been residing in Caprera, an island in the Mediterranean off Sardinia.

The vote of this city, though nearly 1000 in excess of that of two years ago, is still 1000 short of the whole vote at the present time. Large numbers of voters, chiefly mechanics and other workingmen, did not appear at the polls. Contractors, builders, brick makers, iron founders, lumbermen and others, are very busy, and large numbers of men did not leave their work. The vote of the county, cast yesterday, was nearly 7000. It would be over 8000 on a full poll.

The last props relied on by counsel for Guiteau to sustain the plea to save him from the gibbet, have fallen away. The best service the assassin's counsel can now render their client is to advise him to abandon hope and prepare himself for the infliction of the death penalty. In no other country where the laws of retributive justice govern would he have so long survived his crime.

A LADY

SAYS:

"THE OVAL CAKE"

Is revolutionizing the Soap Trade. Housekeepers who once try it never again go back to the wasteful, adulterated and incompletely pressed styles heretofore in use. The advantages of

[illegible] & Co's "New" Soap

Over all other Laundry Soaps are:

1st. It is the only Soap molded by STEAM pressure, and consequently contains more soap and less water to the pound than the old style hand-pressed soaps.

2d. The Oval Cake does not, like the other styles, wash away in using to a thin piece, which crumbles and is wasted, but it wears down to a thick lump, which you can stick a fork into and use entirely up.

3d. It contains no adulteration whatever.

4th. It is the handsomest, most convenient to handle, most economical, and (considering its superior quality) the cheapest Washing Soap ever made. m25d2w

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1882

EXCURSION TO ALASKA.—[illegible] the trip to Alaska [illegible] feature for tourists. With this in view, the steamer Idaho will visit all points of interest in Alaska, taking passengers up the [illegible] and Glacier bay, giving them an excellent opportunity to see the Alaskan country. The company will make special round trip rates for tourists of $95 from Portland. This will permit passengers to go from Portland direct or, if desired, [illegible] via Kalama, the Northern Pacific railroad and Puget Sound, taking the steamship at Victoria. To excursionists who take the latter route, the privilege of stopping over at Victoria will be accorded. They can arrange their time accordingly in leaving Portland so as to connect with the steamer leaving Victoria about the 3d of August. The special pleasure trips to Alaskan waters will not be made unless a sufficient number of excursionists make the trip to warrant the additional expense. This number has been fixed at fifty. Parties desiring to avail themselves of this excursion may leave their names at the ticket office, corner of Front and D streets. The above rate of fare covers meals and sleeping accommodations on the steamer.

THE BRADLEY TRIAL.—The attorneys for Carrie Bradley have until to-morrow to file a motion for a new trial. They have not yet decided it will be expedient to make such motion. In case they do not, or the motion is not entertained, Judge Stott will as soon as possible, pass sentence upon the prisoner. Of those engaged in the murder—or manslaughter, as the jury of twelve intelligent men have decided the crime to be—Pete Sullivan is the next guilty party, and his trial will be speedily brought on. It is believed he will plead guilty to manslaughter. The case of Dolly Adams vs. Mollie Flippen is still held under advisement by District Attorney Caples, and he has not yet decided whether to prosecute. Mollie Flippen, it is said, proposes to leave her dissolute life, now that her eyes have been fully opened to its criminal side, and attempt to atone for the past. The entire expense of the trial amounted to $601 20. The largest sum paid to any one witness was $95 to H. A. Williams, a witness for the prosecution, who came from Yakima county, W. T., and has started to return.

"SUMMER SAUNTERINGS."—The O. R. & N. Co. have just issued in book form under the above title well written descriptions of the most noted scenery of the northwest coast, together with particulars as to reduced rates of fare, time of travel, etc. It is from the graceful pen of Mr. E. S. Mayo, chief clerk of the traffic department. Ten excursion routes have been fixed for this summer from Portland, viz.: To the Cascades, to The Dalles, to Oregon City, to Ilwaco, to Astoria and the seaside, to Olympia and Tacoma, to Seattle, to Victoria, to Alaska, and from Seattle to Sehome. Tickets will be on sale June 15th. The book is illustrated with handsome photographs, is executed by Himes in the highest style of the printer's art, and in character of contents and typographical beauty is equal to the finest issued by eastern transportation companies. It is for sale at J. K. Gill & Co.'s, twenty-five cents per copy.

CAPTURE OF FOUR HORSE THIEVES.—Information has just reached this city of the capture of four horse thieves near Lewiston, I. T., last Wednesday. The names of the thieves are Dan Tartar, Freeman D. Mustard, Doug. Mustard and Geo. Glover. Of late several horses have been missed from different bands, and suspicion pointed to these men, who had just started a drive toward the river. A posse of citizens turned out with rifles and followed the men, overtaking them at Steptoe landing. The stolen horses were found in their possession, and the thieves first tried to escape and then showed fight. But they were well surrounded, and the odds were too great against them. They surrendered and were taken to Colton, where they were bound over and sent to Colfax for trial. There was much excitement among the people and talks of lynching, but so far all is quiet.

WELL CARED FOR.—Mrs. Mary T. Collins, of Collins' Landing, W. T., who was run over by a team in this city about two weeks ago and taken to St. Vincent's hospital, writes to THE OREGONIAN in praise of the care and attention which she received during her convalescence. She says: "I can say truthfully, from my own observation, that St. Vincent's hospital is the best institution of the kind on this coast. No more skillful physicians and kind gentlemen could be wished for; the food is just what it should be, and well prepared by women who fully understand the art of cooking. Much more ought to be said in their praise, but as I am still very weak from loss of blood I leave it for others to do them justice."

DROWNED IN DEER ISLAND SLOUGH.—On the 28th of May, F. B. Matson, aged 29 years, started on horseback to swim Deer Island slough, below St. Helens, and has not since been heard of. The horse returned riderless. Search has been made for the body, but all efforts have been in vain. If the man was drowned, the body has probably floated down the river. The missing man was a Russian Finn by birth. When Matson disappeared he wore a white shirt, linen coat, white vest and navy blue pants, gold rings, and a heavy gold chain with a silver watch attached. He is five feet ten inches in height, and had light hair and moustache.

TO REPAIR THE YAQUINA.—The merchants of this city are raising funds with which to repair the steamship Yaquina, in order that she may be kept on her former coasting route. A subscription paper started yesterday met with hearty responses from all to whom application was made, and it is almost certain that a sufficient amount will be collected. This is a very generous action towards Portland's commercial interests and towards Messrs. Hatch and Tuthill, two enterprising and worthy young men. And it is another instance of this city's liberality and public spirit, which has now become proverbial.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday evening Mr. Geo. Elsfelder, an employe at Pennoyer's saw mill, while at work raising a derrick, was struck by a falling scantling, which lacerated his face in a frightful manner. Dr. Rowley, who was called, dressed the wound and rendered the man as comfortable as possible.

THE STEAMERS.—The Oregon was sighted outside at 1 P. M. yesterday, and looked as if she were ready to cross in at once. The wires went down shortly after 1, and nothing further was heard from her. She had not arrived here when THE OREGONIAN went to press. The Columbia did not cross out.

ANOTHER MEXICAN VETERAN.—From the list of Mexican veterans, who were present at Vancouver on Decoration Day, published in THE OREGONIAN, the name of John Parkhill was unintentionally omitted. Everybody knows Johnny, and mention of the omission is willingly made.

LADIES' RELIEF SOCIETY.—There will be a meeting of the Ladies' Relief Society this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the basement of the Presbyterian church, corner Washington and Third streets.

THE OREGON'S CARGO.—The Oregon, due to-day, brings 171 cabin passengers, 312 in the steerage, and 2035 tons of freight, of which 71 tons are for Astoria.

CONCERT.—This evening the Catholic D. and M. society will give a concert at their hall near the Cathedral.

CREWS CHOSEN.

A meeting of the Willamette rowing club was held last evening at the boat-house for the purpose of selecting crews to row at the club's annual regatta. The following crews were selected to row in the club's boats:

"Willamette Scratch."—O. F. Sites, captain; A. B. Graham, O. O. Morgan, B. Martin.

"Neptune."—16 seconds start—F. C. Burchard, captain; W. Smith, J. D. Hart, C. C. Smith.

"Cressid."—40 seconds start—T. N. Dunbar, captain; G. W. Willett, E. E. Hart, W. A. Wright.

"Vida."—3 minutes start—J. S. Dunbar, captain; John Gill, J. Andrews, L. Russell.

SINGLE SCULL RACE.

"Dart."—T. N. Dunbar.
"Arrow."—W. Smith.
"Minnie."—J. S. Dunbar.

The "Minnie" receives 20 seconds start; distance one mile. The four oared crews will row two miles. The race will be rowed on the 4th of July, at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE IDEAL UNCLE TOM CABIN CO.

Auspicious Opening Notwithstanding Election Excitement—A Good Performance.

The excitement attending the election had no apparent effect upon the attendance at New Market theater last night to witness the first appearance of Jay Rial's "Ideal" Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. Every seat in the auditorium was occupied, while many others had to be content with standing room. The drama as given last night merits the title of an "ideal" representation of the famous romance of Harriet Beecher Stowe. The scene of the Ohio river, filled with floating ice, over which, pursued by the bloodhounds of the slave hunters, Eliza reaches the other shore in safety, is thrilling in the extreme, and was received with applause. Mr. Stockwell in the character of "Lawyer Marks" was very comical, making the most of the part, and in the last act, when his handsome and well trained donkey is introduced, they take the house by storm. The "Topsy" of "Miss Sallie Partington," the "Uncle Tom" of Mr. Gregory, the "Simon Legree" of Mr. Sol. Hicks were all well sustained. Little Miss Newcomb's "Eva" displayed considerable precocity for one of her tender years and played the part with a really artistic ability. The singing of the jubilee singers was by no means the least of the attractions of the drama. The piece will be presented throughout the week and a matinee Wednesday and Saturday. At the conclusion of the engagement in this city the company will make the tour of the state.

THE HIGH WATER.

The line up the Columbia was down until evening yesterday, and only partial reports were received. During the 24 hours ending at 8:30 A. M. yesterday, Snake river rose as follows: Riparia, 7 inches; Ainsworth, 10 inches. The Columbia rose at Umatilla 18 inches, at The Dalles, 15 inches. The Willamette above Oregon City rose 1½ inches from morning till evening yesterday. The river here rose in 24 hours ending at midnight, 13 inches, and stood 21 feet above zero.

Rev. G. H. Atkinson, who is a keen observer, contributes the following on the subject, which next to the election is the great topic now:

The snow on the Cascades north of the Columbia, as seen from Puget sound, is in unusual quantity at this season. South of the Columbia the snow on the mountains is also said to be unusual. The Simcoe range two weeks ago was covered with snow and the winds were chilly over the plateau. The highest mountain peaks, Hood, Adams, St. Helens and Rainier, are covered far down their sides, and evidently at great depth. The crags are hardly seen and the gorges seem to be full. Mt. Adams, the most irregular and broken of these loftier peaks, looks like an arctic snow field. The farther eastern ranges were covered late. These are all signs that the rivers will overflow their banks and that lowlands will be covered. Goods in basements on Front and First streets, Portland, and property in other low places will need to have to be removed.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF SALEM.

We have been informed upon reliable authority that articles of association have been made and an organization certificate acknowledged and forwarded to the comptroller of the currency at Washington, thereby calling the "First National Bank of Salem," which, under the national bank act, becomes a lawful organization whenever the papers reach Washington, the intention being to open the bank immediately thereafter. The chief promoters William Reid, who is to be the president, but who will not reside at Salem. The capitalists who have formed this institution are the combined stockholders of the city of Salem company and of the new Salem woolen mills about to be erected there. The principal gentlemen interested are William Stuart, manufacturer, of Portobello, Scotland, who, in conjunction with Mr. Reid, visited Salem last month and has since returned east, it is believed, to order the necessary machinery for the woolen mill. We learn also, that the Mortgage Savings bank will establish an agency in the same building as that to be occupied by the new bank.

TUESDAY MORNING, JUNE 6, 1882.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

Washington Territory.

Many hundred acres of sod are being turned up in Garfield county.

Jesse J. Walling died in Dayton on the 27th ult., of dropsy, aged 50 years.

F. Koup, a man 77 years old, had a thumb and finger torn off at the Waitsburg planing mills, last week.

A. S. Dickenson sold 200 acres of land in the Spring valley neighborhood recently for $4800. He still owns 1000 acres in the same vicinity.

Wm. Pearsell, living on Asotin creek, was fatally shot by his brother on the 30th ult. The shot took effect in his stomach, causing death in 4 hours.

Bailey & Lawrence will start from Colfax during the coming week with 400 head of horses and 5000 head of sheep. They expect to drive to Chicago.

Treasure shipments per Wells, Fargo & Co. from Dayton, for the month of May, were as follows: Gold, $6642 74; currency, $13,210 70; silver, $72 20.

During the past month three men have been drowned in Salmon river at a point known as Old Chimney. One of them bore the peculiar appellation of Apple Sass John, another was known as Ben Brown, and the third was a stock man, name unknown.

C. C. McCoy has succeeded in letting mail contracts as follows: From Colfax to Farmington, H. M. Boone, $600 per annum; from Colfax to Sprague, H. Wittenberg, $900; from Colfax to Lewiston, M. Liesch, $1000; from Colfax to Pomeroy, via Almota, C. Taft, $1000.

On the Yakima road, between the Topnish and Ahtanum creeks, is a stretch of 20 miles without a drop of water. Money has been raised to dig a well about the middle of this sage-brush desert, and many a thirsty biped and quadruped will have cause to feel grateful.

The new mill at Quartz creek, Klickitat county, has been finished. The machinery is in fine running order, and with a force of fifteen men they expect to make short work of lumber. The machinery is of first-class make and material, costing in the neighborhood of $5000. Klickitat possesses an almost inexhaustible supply of timber.

Ward's party, which has been the last six weeks engaged upon a survey of a line through the canyon of the Yakima between the Kittitas and Selah valleys, have about finished up the work as far as their orders extend. In running the line through the canyon it was found necessary to cross the river five times. The last crossing brought them out on the east side of the river, which practically vitiates the line of Kingsbury to Selah run last season. From indications the line will cross the Yakima again to its west side at an island in the river a short distance below the old ferry of Olmstead. Here the river never shifts its channel and is much easier bridged than the wide delta of the Natches, the bridging of which is escaped in running the line below on the east side of the Yakima, the Natches emptying in on the west side. An air line from this point can easily be run to the Kingsbury survey, near Yakima City.

Johnson's log drive for the Northern Pacific railroad, started about the 25th of April, is now, Wednesday, the 24th of May, 1882, at Yakima city, with plenty of water and river rising. It has been a very clear drive so far, and also is in such a forward state considering the season, that it may be considered a success. The difficulties to overcome on the river are not so great as those that have been surmounted. With the rise of the river and Johnson's usual energy, the logs will be in the boom at the mouth of the Yakima, by the middle of July, and the tie drive will have been on its way. The river is rising and though there is plenty of water now, the logs will go over the rapids and falls of the Yakima with plenty of water to spare. When at the boom at the mouth of Yakima they can be rafted down to Ainsworth at leisure. Johnson has about 70 to 80 men at work and things move along lively. He pays cash; all who wanted their money were paid at Ellensburg and they will be paid again at Yakima city. For the next three weeks his headquarters will be at Yakima city. There are 9,000,000 feet of saw logs and 270,000 ties. This drive is three weeks ahead of the last one and has the water at its best stage. It has all the elements of success.

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Market remains quiet.

Wheat—Has been more active but rather weak. The most favorable feature developed has been more active export demand, exporters taking 125,000 bushels of No. 2 red winter on a basis of $1 46.

Barley—Nominal.

Rio Coffee—Dull and a quarter lower.

Refined Sugars—Fair demand and easier.

Hops—Fairly active. Choice held at 32@35c; medium, 30.

Eastern Freight Situation.

NEW YORK, June 5.—There is no improvement to note in the freight market, which as a general thing is quiet. The Conqueror cleared to-day and will finish her cargo to-morrow. Rates are still quoted steady at last figures, although any considerable sized lot of iron would be taken at $8 per ton. Tonnage is still in good supply, but the demand is limited, both lines having all they require for current wants. The recent advance by Pacific roads of rates on unspecified hardware, etc., has raised a storm of indignation among shippers, especially those who have not got contracts, and there is talk of asking congress for relief from the monopoly.

Crops in Illinois.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The rains of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, have brought gloomy messages from some of the corn counties in Illinois. Farmers begin to fear it will be impossible to finish in time to secure a crop, and that the growth of corn already up will be seriously retarded. This morning, however, the sun rose in a clear sky, the weather is growing warmer every hour and the prospects are for fine corn weather, that will largely compensate for the rains. A little warm sunshine would work a revolution in the appearance of farm lands outside of Illinois. All dispatches continue to predict a splendid condition of all cereals.

WOMAN'S WISDOM.

"She insists that it is more importance, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, care and anxiety. All women should exercise their wisdom in this way."—New Haven Palladium.

JONATHAN MILLS GRADUAL REDUCTION PROCESS.

[illegible]

OVER 500 MACHINES IN USE.

The Degerminator Splits the Wheat and removes the germ and seam impurities perfectly. These Reduction Machines granulate the wheat, without cutting or abrading the bran. Guaranteed to make rounder and larger middlings and a greater percentage; also STRONGER and WHITER FLOUR than any other system in use.

A LIBERAL OFFER TO MILLERS.—Knowing the superiority of the Jonathan Mills Degerminator and Reduction Machines for reducing wheat, we submit the following liberal proposition:

We will set aside the Corrugated Rolls and put our machines in their place at our expense, and without making any other changes, we will guarantee Better Results than are now obtained, to-wit: that from the same quantity and quality of wheat now used per barrel, we will guarantee a larger percentage of Patent Flour of equal quality to that now made; a less percentage of low grade flour, and a Bakers' Flour superior in color and quality to, and worth more money than, the Bakers' Flour now made in the same mills. If we fail to accomplish Better Results as above, we will take out our machines and replace the Rolls, all at our own expense, and, in addition, will forfeit to the miller a cash bonus of $2000 to $10,000, according to the capacity of the mill.

In practical operation at City of Salem Co's Capitol Mills, Salem, Or.

Who Manufacture Four Grades of Flour from our Machines.

A TEST CROWNED BY VICTORY OVER THE ROLLER SYSTEM.

In January, 1880, McDow & Co., of Cleveland, Ohio, bought the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines and fitted up their "National Mills" therewith, continuing to use those machines for a year and a half. In August last, 1881, they were asked to set out the Reduction Machines and put in the Corrugated Roller Mills, subject to acceptance after trial, and had their mills rearranged, at considerable expense, by practical men, skilled in the art of roller milling, aided and backed by all the talent and experience of the manufacturers of Roller Mills. After five months' trial McDow & Co. have thrown out the Corrugated Rolls and put the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines back into their mill, where they are now in use, because the work of the Jonathan Mills Reduction Machines so far excelled that done by the Rolls.

ON TRIAL WITHOUT EXPENSE to the Miller. In any mill where Corrugated Rolls are used for reducing wheat, we will put in our machines in place of the Rolls, furnish all shafting, pulleys, etc., at our own expense, and let the miller run them on trial for 60 days. If the miller chooses to keep them we will charge him the regular price and the actual cost of making the change. If he prefers to keep the Rolls we will take out the machines and replace the Rolls as before, thus insuring the miller a satisfactory trial in his own mill, and without any expense. I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician for aid, from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance, and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted, their organization broken down, and the hope of future happiness blighted, until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stomach and Bladder, he can cure without fail.
